

SCHOOL RESOURCE OFFICER

As a result of a joint effort with the West Fork Police Department, a school resource officer (SRO) maintains an office at WFHS. This officer has received special training and is available to answer students' questions and to work with students in matters that may require police involvement. The officer is routinely involved with the safety and well-being of all staff and students. She is also an integral part of the auxiliary teaching staff. The resource officer is not a school disciplinarian. You may also see the officer in classrooms or visiting with students on campus.
